Joint Base San Antonio

2024

OVERVIEW

Joint Base San Antonio (JBSA) is comprised of four primary locations: Fort Sam Houston, Camp Bullis, Randolph Air Force Base and Lackland Air Force Base. JBSA expands out across a total of 11 geographically separated parcels consisting of 46,539 acres, and 35 million square feet in facilities that support over 266 mission partners. JBSA trains more students from the DoD and has more active runways than any other installation. JBSA is also home to the San Antonio Military Medical Center, the DoD's largest hospital and only state-side level one trauma center, supporting more than 561,000 personnel.

UNITS & MISSIONS

Fort Sam Houston (FSH) is home to the following commands: U.S. Army North, Installation Management Command, U.S. Army Medical Command, U.S. Navy Medicine Education Training and Logistics Command, U.S. Army South, Brooke Army Medical Center, Medical Education and Training Campus (METC) and many others. Camp Bullis provides base support that accommodates operational and training requirements. Lackland Air Force Base graduates up to 80,000 students annually with a mission to provide basic recruit training and other training programs. Major commands include Air Force Installation and Mission Support Center, 59th Medical Wing, 16th Air Force and many others. Randolph Air Force Base is primarily tasked with all three phases of the instructor pilot training program and the Remotely Piloted Aircraft Fundamentals training course. Major commands include Air Education and Training Command, 9th Air Force, and 12th Flying Training Wing among many others.

ECONOMIC IMPACT

The Texas Comptroller of Public Accounts estimates the population directly affiliated with JBSA contributed at least $55.1 billion to the Texas economy in 2023. The Comptroller's economic impact analysis represents a conservative estimate of the economic importance of JBSA to Texas. Each installation's distinctive characteristics contribute to the Texas economy in different ways. This analysis uses a consistent model to determine the economic impact of each of the state's military installations to the state's economic growth.

PROJECTS & PARTNERSHIPS

Recently, the City of San Antonio received a DEAAG award for $5,000,000.00 for infrastructure and force protection upgrades. The JBSA Community Partnership Program creates a valuable forum for fostering relationships and promoting partnerships supporting the culture of JBSA and surrounding communities. The program preserves critical military missions that support the economic vitality of the community. The Community Partnership Program has also begun an Intergovernmental Support Agreement (IGSA) paying project saving over $300,000 plus 150 days of processing. Other initiatives include the JBSA Career Skills Program (CSP) among other initiatives.
